

Underlying Competencies

Communication Skills is the act of a sender conveying information to a receiver in a method delivers the meaning the sender intended. Active listening skills help to deepen understanding and trust between the sender and the receiver. Effective communication benefits all stakeholders.